

Integrated Management System (EnSHE) Policy

Nelcast Limited has established an Integrated management system (IMS-EnSHE) which consists of Energy (EnMS), Occupational Health & Safety (OHSAS) and Environmental (EMS) management system to meet the compliances of the standards ISO 50001:2011, ISO 45001:2018 and ISO 14001:2015 respectively.

Nelcast Limited aims to be a preferred organisation for the customers and stake holders through the scaling performance of Energy, Safety, Health and Environment.

We believe that the components of EnSHE are the integral parts of our business process and strive hard to achieve the performance by proactively pursuing

- * Prevention / reduction of the environmental pollution
- * Utilizing the Sustainable source of energy and there by developing the ecological nature
- * Prevention of injury and ill health to the employees, contractors and other Interested Parties.
- * Eliminate Hazards and Reduce OH & S risks
- * Commitment to Consultation and Participation of Workers
- * Energy planning, review and its actions including the purchase of energy efficient products and services

Apart from that we are committed to follow the availability of adequate information for inculcation of the employees and others, innovative practices, compliance of all legal & other regulatory requirements relevant to the industry, design for the performance scaling, continual improvement and adequate resources, the parameters which abide to be a preferred organisation in long term perspective.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'P. Deepak', is written over a light-colored background.

01.08.2018

CEO & Managing Director